

Amsterdam

I'm too weak to hurt without it showing
I'm too sad to feel the rain come down
I'm too young to see my friends start going
I'm too high to find my way around

It's too bright to be the starlight shining
It's too neon not to be a sham
It's too red to be my silver lining
But it's beautiful in Amsterdam
Yeah, it's beautiful in Amsterdam

I may bruise & burn
But I will have my turn
To live & lose & learn who I am
In Amsterdam

She's too bold to buy that I'm not listening
I'm too cold to hold back from the glass
She's too cheap to have what I've been missing
But she will distract me if I ask
Yeah, she will distract me if I ask

I may bruise & burn
But I will have my turn
To live & lose & learn who I am
In Amsterdam

I don't need no 50 states
I just need a warm embrace
No, I don't need no 50 states
I just need a little space

I may bruise & burn
But I will have my turn
To live & lose & learn who I am
In Amsterdam
